The American Copy Editors Society awards several scholarships each year, including the $2,500 Aubespın Scholarship, named after Merv Aubespın, an early supporter of the organization.

The Aubespın scholar will be the top applicant each year among all applicants for ACES scholarships. Students who are not chosen as an Aubespın scholar are automatically eligible for ACES' other scholarships, at $1,000 each.

All ACES scholarships are for potential professional copy editors. The scholarships are open to students who will be juniors, seniors or graduate students in the fall, and graduating students who will take full-time copy editing jobs or internships.

The postmark deadline for the next available scholarships is Oct. 15, 2004.

Applications are evaluated by a panel of five people with copy desk experience.

The annual Aubespın Scholarship is named after ACES' "godfather," Merv Aubespın. The $2,500 scholarship was announced April 27, 2002, during the ACES conference in Louisville, Ky.

Aubespın provided the impetus behind ACES, as the chairman of the Human Resources Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in the mid-1990s. Aubespın, associate editor for development at the Courier-Journal in Louisville before retiring, was also an early president of the National Association of Black Journalists.
