CHO Roundtable
Location: Banquet Room 1

Grace Reynolds
Associate Director of Residence Life
Lafayette College

In the world of College and University Housing Operations we are all faced with making facility decisions in a dynamic, ever-changing environment. Bring your most urgent and important questions to this roundtable. Hash out, answer, get perspective, and establish professional relationships with your colleagues. Potential areas of discussion are: renovations, new construction, facility audits, budgeting, energy management, housekeeping services, security, damage, and vandalism. This roundtable is specifically targeted to your needs because you set the agenda when you attend.

Entry Level Roundtable
Location: Banquet Room 3

Larry Davis
Program Committee Co-chair

Come join our roundtable and meet other graduate and new professionals like you. The group will have an opportunity to set an agenda on issues such as making the most out of your participation during the conference, networking, selecting which sessions to attend or simply a roundtable to discuss career path decisions as a new professional.

Are you becoming a furniture guru? Or do you want to just look like one? This program has everything you need to become informed on different types and styles of furniture, as well as ways to develop a relationship with vendors, so that you can obtain the right products for your students. This program will be open to discussion so we can answer your questions and meet your needs.

Student Spirituality Development and Support
Location: Terrace Room

Michael Nielsen
Resident Director
LaSalle University

This program will provide participants an opportunity to explore the need for spiritual development and discuss a sample of specific ways that students can be supported in their spiritual growth. Techniques will be shared that are primarily taken from research done in the field of psychotherapy. The program content is intended to help professionals interested in aiding the student in their spiritual development, whether or not they share specific belief systems, religious backgrounds, spiritual experiences, etc.
