Seton Hall - 4 1/2 Years Later - Are We Any Safer?
Location: Conference Room 6
Craig Allen
Director of Residence Life
Seton Hall University
It has been 4 1/2 years since the tragic fire at Seton Hall University claimed the lives of three students and injured 58 others. There have been countless college fires on college campuses, and in late November 2003 a deadly fire in university housing in Russia. What has changed since the Seton Hall fire? This session will look at the state of fire safety on campuses since January 2000, and review best practices for fire safety initiatives. A new video, produced at Seton Hall University will be featured as an example of the latest fire safety efforts being used at the Seton Hall campus.

So you want to be a CHO?: Walk a Mile in My Shoes
Location: Banquet Room 3
John D. Stafford - Consultant In Residence
Director of Residential and Community Development
The College of New Jersey
This session will review the multiple layers of the world of a Chief Housing Officer. The participants will discuss the leadership, management, and fiscal responsibilities of running a residential program while creating a student centered philosophy. Be prepared, you will leave with homework!

The Fast Track: Design/Build a Residence Complex
Location: Fort Henry Room
Joanne Goldwater
Assistant Dean for Residential Life
St. Mary’s College of Maryland
Jeff Orzolek
Assistant Director of Residence Life
St. Mary’s College of Maryland
Attendees will learn how a small college completed a design/build residence complex (suites and single-bedroom apartments) in two years, from start to finish, got students involved and excited about the project, and how we handled issues relating to the early completion of the second phase of the project. We will review relevant parts of the RFP, budget, timeline issues, bond sales, and share tips on making a project like this work.

I`m In the Money!!!
Location: Meeting Room B
Dave Gutoskey
Associate Director of Housing and Residence Life
Salisbury University
First time live-in staff often find they have $$ to burn going from a grad stipend to a full salary. New cars, stereos, computers are first on the lists of investments. Come learn a few strategies to save for the inevitable move off campus.

30 Minute Program - 3:00 PM - 3:30 PM

T"The Many Hats of Advising CAACURH NCCs and NRHHers
Location: Meeting Room B
Tia Marie Protopapa
Ohio State University
CAACURH President
Bonnie Byrne
Wilmington College
CAACURH Advisor
Are your CAACURH delegations not responding to you being a new advisor? Do you feel that you don’t know how exactly to help advise your NCC or NRHH rep.? Working with students can be especially trying if you do not know the history of their position or how to approach it. Let us, the CAACURH Regional Director and Regional Advisor, show you the many angles, inside and out, to advising your CAACURH delegations, NCC, and NRHHers.